DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claims 1-10, directed to a nasal cannula shaped to fit within a user's nares, including at least one prong that is capable of high flow delivery of humidified gasses and which creates a positive airway pressure in the user's airways, and wherein the at least one prong has an angled end such that, in use, gases flowing through the prong are directed to the user's nasal passages. It is considered that such an angled end comprises a first special technical feature.

Group 2, claims 11-20, directed to a nasal cannula shaped to fit within user's nares, including at least one prong that is capable of high flow delivery of humidified gasses and which creates a positive airway pressure in the user's airways, and wherein the at least one prong has an end that is flared outwardly. It is considered that such an outward flare comprises a second special technical feature.

The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

These groups are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept, and they do not have any common inventive features that define a contribution over the prior art. The common concept linking these groups of claims together is a nasal cannula including at least one prong that is capable of high flow delivery of gasses and which creates a positive airway pressure in the user's airways. However, this concept is not novel in light of Strickland et al. (US 6679265 B2) (January 20, 2004), for example. Therefore, these claims lack unity a posteriori.

A telephone call was made to Ms. Linda Palomar on 09/22/2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention. As of 09/30/2010, no response to the voice message has been received by the Examiner. Attempts to reach Mr. Raiford Blackstone were also made but did not prove successful.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof.

Art Unit: 3771

Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case.

Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
